"Nairobi Street-Aesthetics: Distance and Proximity in the Aestheticisation of Everyday Life in the Green City."

with Associate Professor Nicklas Hållén

Friday 9 April 2021, Exceptionally at 15.15-16.30

In this seminar, Nicklas Hållén will introduce street-aesthetics, and the ways in which "the street" - Informal Nairobi - is turned into an aesthetic that is mobilized in texts and art. The seminar will be held as a lecture with students in Africa Studies from the Universities of Karlstad and Uppsala.

Nicklas Hållén is docent/associate professor at The Department of Languages, Literature and Intercultural Studies at Karlstad University. He was part of the research project African Street Literature and the Future of Literary Form at Uppsala University. He teaches and writes about contemporary African literature.
