Friday Research Seminar in Africa Studies

Having difficult conversations:
Engaging film as a reflective surface to encourage dynamic intersectional encounters.

A case study from South Africa

with Charlene Van Der Walt

School of Religion, Philosophy and Classics at University of KwaZulu-Natal

Friday 8 June 2018, 10.15-11.30

House 3, room 2028, Engelska Parken
Thunsbergsvägen 3H, Uppsala

The seminar is a reflection on pedagogical experiences from a research program on "Gender, Health and Theology", a co-operation between various African academic partners and the Church of Sweden and SIDA.

How is it possible to have difficult conversations on sensitive issues, such as gendered identities and sexualities? And how can film be used as a pedagogical tool in order to encourage dynamic intersectional encounters?"
