

Launching Seminar of Decolonizing Research Methodologies

A Research School Programme on empirical data collection, fieldwork relations, ethical challenges, and transnational approaches, 2022-2024

Monday 26 September – Tuesday 11 October 2022

PROGRAMME

Forum for Africa Studies, Uppsala University

<http://www.afrikastudier.uu.se/en/>

The launching of the Research School Programme Decolonizing Research Methodologies aims to bring together participants from the six partner universities (UNB, Burkina Faso; ISH, Mali; SORRECE, Tanzania; SLU, Sweden; SU, Sweden; and UU, Sweden) for a fifteen days intense course on decolonization in practice and on fieldwork methodology. This first year joint activity is exploratory in the sense that PhD-students, postdocs, and faculty will engage in a training and learning process that aims to develop courses and curricula of the programme's coming field courses.

Public Lecture

Homosexual, transgender, third gender, or...?

Dilemmas and insights from the Global South with

Laura Stark

Professor of Ethnology, Dept. of History and Ethnology, University of Jyväskylä, Finland

Wednesday, 28 September 2022, 10.15-12.00

Venue: Betty Pettersson-salen, 14:031,
Blåsenhus, von Kraemers allé 1

In this lecture Professor Stark uses queer anthropology and a decolonialist approach to query Anglo-American concepts of gender and sexuality by examining gais in the Tanzanian city of Dar es Salaam. Despite the name, gais are not homosexuals in the Western sense of the word. Gais have in common that they were designated at birth as male and allow themselves to be penetrated by partners in anal sex. Some self-identify as transgender 'women', some as 'in-between men and women' (kotikoti), and some as men. She argues that Western concepts of gender and sexuality have been uncritically applied in the past to map and control the colonial and post-colonial populations. This misreading of intimate identities has prevented insights that could inform and transform gender and sexualities theory itself.

MOST WELCOME!

The Lecture is co-hosted by Dept. of Cultural Anthropology and Ethnology, and Forum for Africa Studies

Text Seminar: Decolonizing in Practice

Venue: ENG 2-0024, Engelska parken, Thunbergsvägen 3H

NB. Participants should read the texts to be discussed in advance!

The text seminar on Thursday 29 September aims to foster a discussion about central aspects related to decolonizing research methodologies. All participants are expected to read all the papers to be discussed during the day. In addition, a selected number of PhD Students/Postdocs will present their reflections in specific seminar slots. Each slot will be chaired by one of the programme coordinators.

Le séminaire de textes du jeudi 29 septembre vise à favoriser une discussion sur les aspects centraux liés à la décolonisation des méthodologies de recherche. Tous les participants sont censés lire tous les documents qui seront discutés au cours de la journée. En plus, un nombre sélectionné de doctorants/postdocs présenteront leurs réflexions dans des sessions spécifiques. Chaque session sera présidée par l'un des coordonnateurs du programme.
